

Our Grounds

Situated in the Campbell Valley Region of South Surrey, we are surrounded by towering Cedars and Douglas Firs. Within our grounds you will find the Greater Vancouver Orthodox Cemetery and Sampaguita Garden, two of our community partners. Adjacent is the Magnolia Garden, offering memorial tree burials.

The South East corner is home to our Green Burial Garden, offering an eco-friendly alternative to traditional burial. Nearby is our pollinator meadow, where tall grasses, wildflowers, and other native flowering plants provide a welcome source of food—and work—for our resident bee hives. The result is a beautiful place of memory, buzzing with life.

Behind our property runs the Little Campbell River. We have dedicated over two acres of the grounds back to the City and converted them into a protected natural conservation area, where deer and other wildlife are often spotted. Come visit us to see this beautiful and unique place for yourself.

Heritage Gardens

A Sustainable Cemetery

Our Heritage

The Kearney-Crean family are third and fourth generation funeral directors in Metro Vancouver. In 1908, our great-grandfather Thomas Kearney set out to serve families with integrity and compassion - values we will always hold true.

Now, in an era of sustainability and environmental consciousness, we have built Heritage Gardens to reflect the values of the families we serve. We are proud to offer a new take on how families and communities can put their loved ones to rest.

Plots & Pricing

We offer options to suit your needs, from traditional to entirely unique. These include in-ground and above-ground cremation niches, traditional burial, natural burial (with or without a casket) and memorial tree burials.

Cremation Interment Options: from $400

Burial Plots: from $7,500

Please call us or visit our website for more information about our services and offerings.

Offering Green Burial

Green burial provides a gentle, environmentally responsible way to return to the earth. Heritage Gardens is an approved green burial provider, certified by the Green Burial Society of Canada.

The first such cemetery in Metro Vancouver, we believe in environmental stewardship and that natural burial options are important and desired.

If you would like more information, or to reserve a space, please contact us. By respecting life and land, we can benefit generations to come.

Immediate Need

Making decisions at a time of loss can be overwhelming. It is okay for you to take your time and to not rush the arrangements.

Take the time to choose a funeral care provider that feels like the right fit; we recommend choosing an independent (locally-owned and operated) funeral home. If you are not sure if the funeral home you are speaking to is an independent, ask.

Once the arrangements are in place, call us for an appointment to choose a memorial space that is right for your loved one. We will then work with the funeral home of your choice to coordinate the interment service.

Planning Ahead

Pre-planning gives you the time to be fully informed of your options. You can prepare for the costs and choose the arrangements that will best reflect you.

Planning your wishes in advance also provides peace of mind and clear direction for your executor and loved ones. With the major decisions already made, your family can focus on what is most important; supporting each other.
